IF YOUR TACK WAS STOLEN COULD IT BE IDENTIFIED.....?

Saddles, tack and rugs are regularly stolen so they must be clearly identifiable. A visible mark will be a deterrent to thieves and any stolen items that are recovered can be returned to you. Even if it is recovered, unidentifiable property is either returned to the thief, auctioned or destroyed. Your home postcode is always the most recognisable mark to use.

Tack marking usually involves stamping leather saddles on the nearside, under the flap. For synthetic saddles the near side stirrup bar is engraved. This convention is simple to follow and easy to explain to anyone checking for identifying marks.
