

Pegasus Crossing opens in Clackmannanshire

The recently installed Pegasus Crossing on the A908 in Clackmannanshire is providing a safe crossing point for horse riders using the Core Path network.

The A908 was becoming increasingly difficult to cross for horse rider's cyclist and walkers due to the volume of traffic The Pegasus Crossing together with the Pedestrian Crossing adjacent now provides a safe crossing point for everyone.

Nan Preston and Sandra Anderson on their horses Caesar and Chico are shown trying out the crossing.
